BAY ST. LOUIS, MISS., FRIDAY, APRIL 22, 1932.

FORTY-FIRST YEAR, No. 17.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE TO SPONSOR BUILDING OF MODERN BAY PIER

Mrs. John N. Stewart, of New Orleans and Bay St. Louis, Originator of Plan That Will Give Bay City New and Modern Recreational Pier Head of Bookter Ave.

Proposition formerly endorsed by Bay St. Louis Chamber of Commerce, there was another meeting of a special committee appointed for the purpose held at C. of C. headquarters, with W. J. Gex, Jr., presiding as chairman of this particular committee.

Mrs. Stewart plans to build south of the head of Bookter Street a pier approximately one thousand feet long. The approach will be of ornamental overhead structure, a long stretch of pier following. Then a pavilion and restaurant building, both places to be divided by the usual arch division.

The restaurant will be closed and the pavilion built so as to make it an open affair during the season when summer breezes blow from over the gulf.

Then another span or pier will follow and at this point a row on both sides of the pier will be used for individual bath houses. Then beyond this there will be a wide pier for the accommodation of boats and visitors.

Mrs. Stewart was accompanied by her architect who presented the Chamber of Commerce committee with the plans in the embryo, for their pleasure either to adopt, condemn or alter. However, it was found the sketch was of an ideal recreation pier and met the many requirements for which the structure will be used. A number of plans for concessions will be built and already, Mrs. Stewart stated, two had been spoken for.

The architect said that it would be possible to have this enterprise ready and open for business June 1, and every effort would be made to reach that point. Heavy pilings will be used, of creosoted timber treatment and every effort and precaution will be taken as to make this building storm-proof, durable and lasting, dedicated to the comfort and pleasure of the public.

While it is hoped the pier will carry a profit, as it will, the main thought is to give Bay St. Louis an outstanding attraction for every man, woman and child.

MRS. C. C. McDONALD P-T-A. MEET FOR STATE

Mrs. C. C. Clark and Mrs. C. C. McDonald Principal Speakers From Bay St. Louis.

Representing the average mother members of Parent-Teacher group, Mrs. C. C. Clark of Bay St. Louis, in her address on "The Home's Responsibility in Character Education," delivered Wednesday evening before the Mississippi Congress of Parents and Teachers, at Meridian, urged the parents to put first things first and challenged them to put forth their best effort in their task of character building, which is the biggest job for man or woman.

If America is to be the greatest nation in the world, the speaker declared it will not be accomplished through her wealth, her power, but through the character of her men and women and her youth.

Besides Mrs. Clark, the other speakers of the program were Dr. Harry Levey of New Orleans, director of the Child Guidance Clinic, who spoke on "Mental Hygiene, Its Meaning and Importance in the Life of the Normal Child," and J. Crawford Rivers, a former Meridian resident, who explained the purposes and program of the United States Society. The invocation was offered by Dr. William Ackerman, rabbi of Temple Beth Israel.

In her address Mrs. Clark spoke of the aversion of people living "empty lives" and she asked the question, "With what is your life filled?" declaring that the average person is prone to live frivolously in an effort to "have a good time" and are not putting first things first.

She pointed out that it is the duty of parents not only to give their children first interest but also intelligent interest if the parent is to assist his child in growing and developing. She warned parents of the dangers that lurk in passion to solve the child's problems and to shield him from them. This, she stated, tended to dwarf the individual personality.

One of the needs of the present day, she declared is a generation of youth that will be able to stand under the pressure of modern life and make a right choice, thinking clearly through the goal.

"This I think would bring the greatest thrill to a parent. 'This matter of character building is one which challenges real patriotism, enduring and vital religion and should be given first place in the heart and life of every parent,' said the speaker in closing.

Mrs. C. C. McDonald speaks. Mrs. C. C. McDonald of Bay St. Louis was equally prominent in her participation of program deliberations, and delivered a message over the radio and at the convention, concluding that the man and woman of the future was in the making today; that the child was entitled to proper environment and care and moral and physical development as well.

Hancock County Honored. Mrs. Harold B. Weston, Hancock county chairman P-T-A. was presented with a silver loving cup awarded to Hancock out of eighty-two counties for the largest proportion in P-T-A. membership according to population, an average of about 55,100, per cent.

Hancock county also captured the Loyalty Banner. Other representatives to the convention from Bay St. Louis included, besides Mrs. McDonald, Mrs. Clark, Mrs. Weston, Mrs. Jas. A. Evans, Mrs. R. B. Logan, Mrs. Sidney W. Prague, County Supt. of Education James McQueen.

Mrs. McDonald gave a survey of the convention and speakers in a most comprehensive manner at the Bay Rotary Club Wednesday.

Taxpayers Meet In Regular Session At County Courthouse

M., at the courthouse. Every taxpayer is urged to join the league that Hancock county will surge ahead and be interesting and inviting to outside capital. With a live taxpayers organization in this county, much can be accomplished, it is said.

McDonald, of Bay St. Louis, recently-returned delegate from Mississippi State P-T-A., held at Meridian, was honor guest of the club Wednesday at the Oriole and chief speaker of the occasion.

Mrs. McDonald was introduced as one who was a constructive force in the community and whose efforts stood for so much and resulted in the accomplishment of good.

Reporting the different programs and what various speakers had to say, she told how Gov. Connor, whose time hardly permits him to attend any gatherings or meetings other than of state, was present on one occasion and told what he said. Also that State Superintendent of Education Bond attended and of the thoughts he expressed.

Mother clubs had been succeeded by Parent-Teachers' Associations over the State, said Mrs. McDonald, who were accomplishing such work for the children representing influences that meant for the future and ultimate good.

Members of Ladies' Auxiliary, American Legion Post, Hancock county, gave at the Oriole Tuesday evening one of the larger and more successful of their series of card parties, benefit of their fund for the work they are carrying on.

The event was a bridge-supper, in a way a novelty and both this and the cause, to say nothing of the popularity of the Auxiliary, attracted many guests.

Mrs. H. C. Glover captured the entrance prize, while there was a trophy given to the winner at each table.

Mrs. Laurant Dickson, assisted by other ladies of the Auxiliary, were rewarded for their efforts. Members were active in the cause resulting in the sale of some fifty tally cards.

Mrs. Pollard, hostess at the Oriole, served an unusually dainty and abundant supper and, as usual, the tea room and parlor space was decorated in appealing manner. Wild azalea predominated, and bunches of fresh sweet pea blossoms were placed about in an unstinted quantity.

TO DIRECT TRAFFIC TO CITY

Chamber of Commerce Will Place Signs Telling of Paved Streets and Better Way to Bridge

Realizing that the Old Spanish Trail takes all auto travelers through the back of the city of Waveland, and depriving all travelers the beauty and conveniences of our city, Bay St. Louis Chamber of Commerce Executive Committee held a meeting this week in reply to a united demand for a change of course of this traffic.

It was brought out that our people in the city limits of Bay St. Louis and more particularly business men and firms, pay the bulk of taxes and are defraying the heavy bonds and interest from which the money was realized to build the trail, that they are entitled to some of the business, that may come to this city.

Hence, after a careful survey had been made of the various city lateral streets converging with the O. S. T., it was found that there was no other street, (paved) more practicable and desirable from many points of view than Main street. The intersection of Main street and Old Spanish Trail was selected for location of a big sign there, directing travelers on through Main street to beach, thence to the free bridge.

In returning, traffic will be directed to turn to the paved beach highway on through the city and Waveland and Lakeshore. In this way, since it is impossible to have traffic pass all beach business houses on the way out from New Orleans, it could be directed back to New Orleans along the entire beach front.

These signs are in process of being painted, Harry L. Witter, doing the work, and the Chamber of Commerce will place these signs as early as finished.

This work is that of the Bay St. Louis Chamber of Commerce, officially originating and sponsoring the work, and in response to a united demand that traffic be diverted from giving our city the go-by through piney woods and uncertain gravel-surfaced roadways.

BAY FIRE DEPT. TO PASS CALL

With That of Gulfport—C. N. Grovner Home on Pass Christian Beach Destroyed.

Fire at Pass Christian Sunday afternoon destroyed the winter home of Mrs. C. N. Grovner of Memphis, Tenn., resulting in an estimated loss of $40,000 partially covered by insurance.

The fire is said to have been discovered on the roof and gained such rapid headway as to render it difficult to control. A high wind fanned the flames to rapid fury and the house located on far east end of Pass Christian beach, the water mains in that section are said to be smaller than the regulation size in the city and territory immediately adjacent.

Bay St. Louis fire engine and members of the department responded but on reaching the scene found while there was water there was not sufficient to supply the local engine. In addition to that of the Pass engine, Gulfport, too, responded, shortly after the Bay engine arrived. Mayor Traub and other officials and citizens were on the scene of the big fire.

The house was of the high two-story colonial type, built entirely of timber, and served as a vehicle to carrying the flames to an unusual spectacle.

The Grovner family were at home at the time. It appears a fire was burning in a grate located in the library and it is thought sparks from this fire, aided by the high wind, set the fire. Part of the furnishings down stairs was saved but clothing jewelry and fine furniture of another period, set on the upper floor, was entirely lost. From the roof the fire soon broke out on the second floor from where it was first sensed.

Mr. Grovner, the owner, died about six months ago. His widow and family were at home at the time. Adjoining buildings that were damaged by the fire but not to so great extent were that of Mrs. W. E. Stanton of New Orleans, and the west end of that of Mrs. Hill to the east.

ARTISTIC PROGRAM PRESENTED IN BAY CITY BY GULFPARK

Appreciative Audience Enjoys Benefit Entertainment Given for Night School.

For the benefit of the night school, featured by Bay St. Louis Rotary Club, there was a large and cultured audience at Bay Hi school auditorium Friday evening, when members of the Glee Club and Piouette clubs, Gulf Park College, an entertainment termed Rhymes and Rhythms, and proved of exceptional interest and pleasing to the artistic senses.

While the various sketches and songs and choruses were all outstanding in quality and received with much acclaim, the orchestra was of unusual excellence. Music lovers and others versed in the technique of art of music were responsive to every selection by the orchestra, including accompaniments, etc.

Three of the main main features, "Convicts of Melody," Sextet, "By the Bend of the River," "Selections by the Women's Glee Club," "A Make Believe Episode," and "Dancing the Devil Away," were all outstanding.

Personal preference: "A Make Believe Episode."

Miss Lauraine Barbour was accompanist and orchestral leader.

At the conclusion of the evening's program a collation was served to the cast of fifty-nine ladies and a few guests who had loaned their cars for the occasion. This fifty bite and "drink" was served by the Domestic Science Class of Bay Hi. Delicious and fully enjoyed.

While all returns have not been made, so far the net receipts are $65.00, which amount will be appropriated to the night school work which Rotary is so well carrying out, classes headed by Prof. S. J. Ingram Rotarian.

The arrangement committee, headed by John J. McDonald, Rotarian, functioned without the slightest untoward incident. At the regular club meeting held Wednesday proper appreciation was expressed to whom honor and credit is due.

Gulf Park students come to Bay St. Louis each year. Dr. R. G. Cox, president, offers the entertainment for Rotary benefit, and such services has proved of benefit and appreciation.

Gowns Will Be Sold At Weston Hotel After Style Show

It will be interesting news to ladies of Bay St. Louis and vicinity to learn that all gowns, street, afternoon and evening wear, as well as sport dresses and accessories, to be shown at the style show and music revue on Wednesday evening of next week, April 27, will be on display and sale at Hotel Weston the following day, April 28, at twenty percent off the regular price. Showing and sale at hotel between the hours of 9 a. m. to 5:30 P. M.

The idea, Mr. Bittar expresses, is to save the trouble and expense of returning this beautiful line of new goods back to the original shops. The idea is to select what appeals to your taste and wants, says Mr. Bittar, at the show Wednesday night. Come early and make a better selection. However, there are so many dresses, that the stock is sufficiently large and varied to run well over the day and then some more.

business along modern lines and intensified methods of business of today.

To carry a heavy and well-selected stock, varied, and always at prices a little lower than seems possible, Mr. Scharff has built up a trade that is extensive and which in time will require a new and larger building, as is already planned.

Scharff's I. G. A. every week publishes an extensive price list and buyers for the family will save real money and in no small amount by trading at Scharff's I. G. A. Read the ads and profit thereby.

Oscar Favre, of Kiln, Hancock county, recently charged with being implicated in a charge of murder with Zeno Hode, and cleared, and further held in the Hinds county jail, at Jackson, on a charge filed by prohibition enforcement agents, has more than an ordinary share of man's anguish, since human misery seemingly must come to one and all at different times.

Favre's infant, about a year old, passed away during Sunday under an unusual circumstance, strangled to death after a safety pin which he swallowed became lodged in his windpipe.

Favre received word of the tragic death of his beloved one through the medium of a federal officer, and the question arose, could he attend the funeral and visit his grief-stricken wife and family once more at this particular time. It was thought impossible at first, as neither the Jackson jail nor federal officers at Jackson could grant him a release without the sanction of the district judge. It was said, further, this could not be accomplished on Sunday.

However, the day following Judge Holmes, on the federal bench, was appealed to for such permit, which he granted. Providing that U. S. District Deputy Marshal Tyler would be responsible for his charge.

In turn Commissioner Tyler said if Sheriff T. Ed. Keller, who was in Jackson at the time on other business, would be responsible for the prisoner, he would let him go. Sheriff Keller promptly and willingly assumed the responsibility and Tuesday night arrived at Kiln with Oscar Favre and turned him loose on his own word of honor.

Before leaving Jackson federal authorities informed Sheriff Keller that if Favre could make a bond for his appearance in court at the proper time he could remain home until called for and thus save the expense and ordeal of a return trip. This bond was made and Favre is at his home with his family again united, not in happiness, but in deep grief over the visitation of death at their home at Kiln on Jordan river.

W. B. A. TO CONSTRUCT BUILDING

Give Successful Party Monday Night To Add to Nest Egg.

An unusually successful benefit card party was given Monday night at St. Stanislaus College gym by Woman's Benefit Association of Bay St. Louis, benefit building fund of the Woman's Association.

Over twenty tables of players enjoyed the evening "at cards" and a prize awarded to the winner of each table added interest.

A $2.50 gold piece was given as the entrance prize, which was captured by Miss Dora Neceise. Prizes for the individual table were an unusually well selected, attractive and ornamental as well as useful.

From time to time these parties are given with a view of accumulating a material sum of money before beginning to build.

The sum of cash already on hand is running up in dollars to the five hundred mark.

Recently Mrs. John N. Stewart donated a delightfully-situated piece of ground, of ample proportions, facing City Park avenue, whereon it is planned to construct the building for the association. Its purpose will serve both as a recreational and meeting hall and as a "community house," as well.

Mrs. Stewart's generosity is appreciated and it is hoped to have the building thereon in no distant future.

Misses Miriam and Levie Engman are the leading spirit of the W. B. A., with their initiative and well-known executive ability to the fore. They are intense and intelligent workers. Modest, they attribute the remarkable success achieved to the splendid co-operation accorded by their sister members.

STARVING TO DEATH WITH A LOAF OF BREAD UNDER ARM.

THE EDITORIAL page of The Sea Coast Echo seems to attract more than ordinary attention, pro and con. Some of these letters are too flattering to publish, others possibly too drastic.

The anti-prohibition articles have brought a shower of commendations, by letter, personally and otherwise. True, there has been some protest. We like honesty of opinion and always respect the opinions of others, whether they agree with ours or not.

Here is one letter, in part: "While there are and must be a number of Mississippi newspapers against prohibition because it has proven a failure and is damaging, yet yours is the only newspaper in Mississippi that would dare to come out in the open. . . . Herewith check for renewal of subscription."

Here's another, as to the subject of making a national preserve of Honey Island: "It appears to me that with the proper co-operation among public-spirited citizens like yourself, with the help of the various chambers of commerce and like organizations, this could be made a reality."

"I enjoy reading your editorial comments from week to week and did not overlook reading this article, and wish to compliment you on the same."

"My interest is ever with the good people of Bay St. Louis and I look forward to my every visit, only wish that it was so that I could make it my permanent home, and it is my belief that if we were able to get the 'short route' and reduce taxes below the point of confiscation, that this would be possible. It would cause that section to grow beyond the imagination of the human mind."

"It is sorrowful to think of such a paradise, a veritable empire in the making, to lie dormant as it does today. We are literally starving to death with a loaf of bread under our arms."

Return values of real estate will do more to stabilize conditions than any other element. Many remedies are advanced, but the one fact remains values must return.

CLEAN-UP WEEK IN BAY ST. LOUIS.

IN LINE with the time of the year and looking to further better the sanitary and general health condition of the city of Bay St. Louis, Mayor Charles Traub, Sr., has issued his proclamation, declaring Clean-Up Week from and including Monday, April 25 to Saturday April 30, and in which proclamation the city commissioners concur.

The mayor in his official pronouncement asks that "all people in the city clean their property premises during the week" as indicated.

He says "it is necessary to cut grass and clean property of weeds and trash for the public health and convenience, and to eliminate mosquito breeding places and also for the benefit of the city generally in appearance and otherwise."

The Echo is of the opinion our people, who have not already done so, will clean their premises more, intensively and keep up the commendable work. Besides promoting health and avoiding contagion there is another aspect to look forward to and that is of beautifying and ameliorating appearances, thus adding value to realty values and promote the general prosperity of the city and adjacent territory.

The Senate knocked off for an hour to look at the big army and navy parade held in Washington on the 6th of April, as part of the George Washington Bi-centennial Celebration. Some may think that it was an undignified and trivial thing for the Senate to do. Really, it was a precedent worthy of being welcomed and followed. The whole blase, irritated and struggling population would be better and happier if, even for a brief hour now and then, its members would lay aside the intensiveness of their personal affairs, and relax amid the attractions of parades, county fairs and general old-time elbow rubbing. The country is sorely in need of a let-down, and an era of pop and peanuts.

War leaves a train of complications that survives the combatants and the hatred that war engenders. Congress has before it a resolution authorizing the states to sue for two hundred million dollars in taxes said to have been unlawfully collected by the federal authorities in the days of 1861-65.

Kind words are free—that's why some people don't use them.

Kidnapers deserve no sympathy and as far as we know, get none.

Kinds words and deepest sympathy seldom take the place of bread to eat.

Taxpayers are beginning to learn that bonds must be paid, including interest.

Congressmen, considering cutting their own pay, must have heard about a depression in the land.

Communities that are visited by tornadoes appreciate the work of the Red Cross. The nation should support this organization.

STATE PASSES GROSS SALES TAX.

REACHING a decision and breaking a costly deadlock, Mississippi's legislature on Tuesday voted a two-per cent gross sales tax, the House concurring with the Senate in voting for the 2-cents tax which the House had originally voted for a 3-cent.

Governor Conner wanted a 3-cent tax and must have had solvent reason for the manner in which he tried to stick to his guns. But the burden, unbearable as it will prove, was one that reasonably could not be countenanced, and notwithstanding united opposition the surprising part is that even a 2-cent sales tax was finally adopted.

However, many representatives and senators voted against it and although much pressure was brought to bear they could not be influenced.

The Echo is sorry to note that Hancock county's representative voted for the measure all the way through; for the original 3-cent tax. As it is the consumer which will ultimately have to absorb this tax from the merchant as he is in no position to do so, it will be seen the people of every day life, struggling for a livelihood, will have to pay.

Representative Fleming has erred, no doubt. And it will be well that our people in future see that he not be returned to public life. We want men at the capital who will prove constructive as in the past. Men who have given us such improvements as the seawall and other outstanding benefits which Hancock county and the coast are today enjoying as a public betterment. Educated men, with both constructive and executive ability, those who stand head and shoulders above mere mediocres; in other words, men who are fitted, should be sent from each and every county. The mission to the legislature is of too much importance, and virtually affects too many people to be placed in the hands of incompetency.

The fight by the Jackson Clarion-Leodger on the proposed sales tax in Mississippi well illustrates the power of the press. The C.-L. has put up a content and consistent fight from day to day and has changed the attitude of the legislature from what at first seemed unbending and unyielding. It aided changing the tax from 3 to 2 cents.

COSTS VERSUS RESULTS.

SECRETARY of State Walker Wood thoughtfully and kindly sends The Echo and no doubt the balance of the press of the State, a list of accomplishments by the Mississippi legislature. He says the House and Senate have been in session for seventeen weeks and if the public thinks the members have not accomplished anything then take a look at the list of bills passed and change your criticism.

Secretary of State Walker is a prince. He never forgets his friends and the public in general. He serves one as he serves all. And a more thoughtful and accommodating man in public office does not exist. Therefore, one is not inclined to take issue with him. In fact, we do not.

But if in seventeen weeks, at $10.00 per day, to each legislator, a body of men could not accomplish more than the standard of efficiency has been considerably lowered. And the State of Mississippi ought to get change back when this session becomes history, noted for the 2 per cent gross sales tax which occupied the center of the stage of this play and consumed more time than any other consideration.

This thing called "Balancing the budget," is getting very expensive and defeats the ends for which it was started.

It costs the people of Mississippi $3000.00 a day for the legislature and the longer it meets the costlier. Possibly at the end, and we earnestly hope so, such things might have been achieved that after all the cost of it might be comparatively small. But there is a definite doubt.

One hardly dares comment on the outcome of the Lindbergh affair. If the optimists are right, a gloomy paragraph is likely to be out of order any day. If the pessimists are right, there is good reason to think that Col. Lindbergh has in store no larger comfort than that for which David hoped. When the King of Israel had to part with a beloved child, he said: "I shall go to him, but he will not return to me."

REDUCING MUNICIPAL SALARIES.

ANNOUNCED elsewhere in the news columns of this issue of The Sea Coast Echo, it will be noted members of the Board of Mayor and City Commissioners have voluntarily cut their own salaries with a view of further aiding economic endeavor and to make it possible to reduce tax-payers' burdens.

It is commendable and will aid considerable in reaching the goal aimed for.

In line with this the Board of School Commissioners have also announced a reduction of ten per cent of the amount appropriated each year to pay teachers. It is planned to grade the respective teachers' reduction, not a flat 10 per cent reduction but a sliding scale according to grade and work performed. However, in all it will sum up to the amount of a total ten per cent reduction.

This saving will mean considerable and in a way, comparatively, will not affect the earnings of the teachers to any appreciable extent.

Teachers, although they earn and are entitled to every cent they are paid earn their pay, but they, too, like all others employed, will have to take their cut as well, and that they have cheerfully done, which is all to their credit. How they have taught in so many counties recently without pay has in no way affected the high-class service they are always wont to render.

A resolution has been introduced in the House of Representatives which will enable a trial to proceed if a juror falls sick, or dies. Newspapers do not suspend publication when a pressman, or even the editor, falls by the wayside; and the death of a store clerk is followed by no disturbance more marked than a collection for a wreath of flowers. The courts, alone, do not seem inclined to follow the rule that "The workmen perish, but the work goes on."

VIEWS OF OUR NEWS

By Chicagoan

A Review of the News of Last Week's Echo.

"SHOWERS"

CHICAGO, ILL., April 19.—Not for a moment would I think of pouring water on the colorful picture painted by John T. Meyers last week. Still, I cannot help smiling when I imagine those affectionate park-benchers of whom he speaks suddenly realizing that a heavy rain is falling and that they are all wet, for, of course, April wouldn't be April without showers. How welcome those spring rains are, except to baseball fans, park-benchers and other lovers of outdoor sports! They wash away all traces of the dreary winter. They bring new life to the earth, there is evidence of its fecundity in the very odors of its soil after a good rain. Down in that soil little seedlings await the moisture that oozes to them. Then give them a few warm days and they'll fairly shoot heavenward. "April showers bring May flowers" is more than poetry.

Now when Mayor E. G. Schwartz and Mr. John Moreau of Waveland found that they had business in Jackson that required attention last week, they may have wondered a bit whether they would run into a shower on the way. But no matter, they knew that they must be up and about their affairs. They used to tell us to make hay while the sun shines. Now we find we've just got to keep plugging away rain or shine, or else we'll find ourselves without any fodder at all.

Look about you on a Sunday morning and you'll think there may have been a shower of new clothing, so tastily have your friends arrayed themselves. There are new hats, new spring coats and new shoes on the ladies. Babies are "getting the air" in charming new buggies. Even Dad may have gone so far as to buy a new pair of trousers, at least he's got a new patch on the seat of his old ones.

But the value of the clothing dollar continues to mount, clothing is cheaper, but the dollar harder to get. Never, perhaps, have people been so careful about getting full value for their money. That's why they are reading the apparel advertisements more closely than in the past. Sagacious merchants with real values to offer know this. You'll find their advertisements in The Echo.

Rev. W. E. Allen expresses pleasure in the success of the revival which closed last week. He will continue to make his church a haven for the weary, a house of comfort for those burdened with adversity. The account in The Echo telling of the successful meeting shows that he will be greeted with a shower of devotion and with determination that he shall have all possible assistance from his congregation in his noble work.

The Rotary elected President Moreau and Secretary Scaffie as delegates to the district convention to be held in Baton Rouge. Have the members of that organization anything to do with showers. I should say they have and plenty. There have been showers of approval for the good work they've done. There's been criticism too, sometimes there's almost been a storm of protest. But neither praise nor censure has deterred these civic minded citizens from doing what they consider their duty.

The Chamber of Commerce and the Rotary Club are perhaps two of the biggest reasons why Bay St. Louis has kept an even keel and progressed, even during past year. Well poised leaders are needed to pilot a community, more so now than formerly. They must be men and women who know how and when to detour a bit when necessary, but who forever keep in mind the objective that lies ahead on the highway of the town's existence.

Healthy baby chicks at the Boudin store are seeking new homes, says the advertisement in the Echo. Some of them are on their way, you hear them in the postoffice and on the mail truck as it leaves for the station.

If you don't realize what a wealth of magic there is in a lot of baby chicks ask some little boy or girl who has stood apart in wonder while the fluffy little things pecked at their first meal.

Well, most of those little yellow balls will grow into healthy maturity for their new owners. The chicks may not bring a shower of golden coins, but they will provide their owners with meat, eggs, and down for their pillows. Thus do those balls of yellow fluff fulfill their destiny.

A shower of praise, no doubt

Motion Pictures

Of Shipping At Long Beach Sought

Efforts are being made through the Gulfport Chamber of Commerce to have the Pathe News make moving pictures of the activities in shipping at Long Beach, especially scenes of radishes when being packed and loaded into cars.

Radish shipments will be well over within a week of 10 days but Strawberries are now coming in plentifully.

The first car load of strawberries since the freeze was shipped from Long Beach Monday to northern markets. The berries were of fine quality. A car load of radishes and a mixed car load of vegetables were also shipped from Long Beach Monday.

Strawberries will be shipped out by car loads from Long Beach quite frequently from now on for the next 30 days.

Changing Ambition.

"How's your boy getting on in school?"

"Well, he's reached the age when he thinks less of passing an examination than of passing the car ahead."—Cappers Weekly.

followed the presentation of "Rhymes and Rhythms" by the Gulf Park College students Friday night. The young folks showed that they have learned the great art of self expression as well as their three R's while in school. Youth, frank and natural, is encouraged by the support given those activities. Those who attended, besides aiding the Rotary Club in a worthy cause, came away more refreshed than they would be had they attended a performance by sophisticated professionals. Soon the young folks will be out in the world of reality, but they'll still be acting parts. Whether or not they win the plaudits of the world depends partly on themselves and partly on what the world will be applauding at that particular time.

SECRETARY OF STATE COMPILES LIST OF BILLS PASSED BY LEGISLATURE

Amusement Tax of 10 Per Cent Adopted—Absent Voters' Law Repealed—Jurors' Pay Cut From $4.00 to $2.50 Day—Authorization on Municipalities to Borrow Money In Anticipation of Taxes.

While the Legislature is still struggling with numerous unsolved problems, including the problem of revenue-raising, Secretary of State Walker Wood has compiled the list of important bills enacted into law at this session.

Wood said he had completed the list in answer to criticism of the long continued session.

"It is charged that the governor has occupied the executive chair for several months, and the Legislature has been in session for a longer period, and nothing has been accomplished. The records do not establish the justice of such a criticism," he said.

The most important of the new laws enacted at the present session were listed by the secretary of state as follows:

Abolish the separate trustee boards for state university and colleges and establishment of a centralization board.

Amend the income tax laws to reduce exemptions and raise the brackets on larger incomes.

Cut School Charge

Reduce the amount to be paid by county superintendents for transportation of pupils from $5 to $3 per month.

Reduce the pay of election officials from $3 to $1 for each day actually employed in their duties.

Suspend payment of commutation road tax and penalties to Sept. 1, 1932.

Restrict employment on public work to citizens of Mississippi of at least two years standing.

Require chancery clerks and sheriffs to perform all duties previously imposed on county treasurers.

Create a new fish and game commission.

Provide for division of money collected for trespass on sixteen section lands lying in two or more counties.

Amusement Tax

Impose the 10 per cent amusement tax on all forms of amusement from theaters and dance halls to college football games.

Abolish the office of penitentiary superintendent and substitute a manager named by the board of trustees.

Require circuit judges to charge grand juries with respect to forest fires.

Provide for county extension departments in agricultural and home economics.

Reduce the penalties for redemption of land sold for taxes to an original five per cent penalty and an additional one per cent a month during the two year redemption period.

Clarify the primary election laws where two or more to be nominated for the same office.

Prohibit institutional heads from expending in excess of their appropriations, in order to eliminate deficits.

Prevent supervisors from buying road machinery on installment plan, except under strictest restrictions.

Absentee Voting

Repeal the absentee voters' law. Restrict claims filed with county supervisors.

Empower governor, attorney general and treasurer to supervise state fund depositories.

Give circuit courts authority to enter judgment and provide penalties in affirmances and reversals, the same as the supreme court.

Authorize municipal authorities to select treasurers of depositories for city funds.

Authorize supervisors to exchange refunding bonds for outstanding bonds of consolidated schools, rural schools districts and road districts.

Require pharmacists to display their license in a conspicuous place.

Authorize county superintendents to waive the lien for rest on agricultural products grown on sixteen section lands.

Provide for commitment to an asylum of persons acquitted of crime by reason of insanity.

Cut Jurors Pay

Reduce compensation of jurors from $4 to $2.50 a day, with the same mileage, tolls and ferriages as allowed witnesses in circuit court.

Extend time of payment of interest due counties on sixteen section lands.

Authorize municipalities to borrow money in anticipation of taxes to pay bond and interest account.

Provide additional penalties for violation of the state gasoline tax laws.

Authorizing municipalities having liens for special improvement to purchase property at tax sales of state and county to protect their liens.

Provide that all municipalities shall hold elections for officers on second Tuesday of December, every two or four years, according to municipality's terms of office.

Secretary Wood said that in addition, numerous other general and local and private laws had been enacted at the present session.

Bills Introduced in the House

H. B. 734, by Capers—To authorize a private payment in Hinds county. Local and private.

H. B. 735, by McCullum—To authorize Sand Hill Consolidated school district in Jones county to sell school lands. Local and private.

H. B. 736, by McCullum—To authorize Union Line Consolidated school district in Jones county to make a private payment. Local and private.

H. B. 738, by Coen—To remove the disqualification of women for jury service. Judiciary en banc.

Dr. Rice To Start Move For Recall of General Sales Tax

Natchez, April 19.—Commenting on the passage of the two per cent sales tax by the lower House of the Mississippi Legislature today, Dr. James C. Rice, chairman of the Mississippi anti-sales tax association said:

"A call will be issued for a meeting of the steering committee of the Anti-Sales Tax Association to be held in Jackson within the next few days. This meeting will be held as soon as legal points regarding the law have been investigated.

"The enactment of the sales tax bill was simply the brow beating of a constitutional majority into the unwilling acceptance of an administrative measure. The entire commercial interest of the state was disregarded.

"The politicians were notified in advance that the state would not stand for such ruthless treatment and it shall be made an issue in every campaign from now on and drive started for referendum and recall at once in order that the state may be protected from such sad occurrences."

L. & N. Offers Low Excursion Rates To The Mississippi Gulf Coast

I. V. Colly, with headquarters at Biloxi, Coast passenger agent of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad, announced Monday morning that effective May 22 the L. & N. will return to the famous old $1 excursion rates from New Orleans to Coast points. Residents along the Coast are much interested in the new rates and have sought to have the railroad offer them again as they did prior to the World War. With the return of the old rates it is expected that the number of Sunday visitors to the Coast will greatly increase as in former years several thousand excursionists visited Coast points each week-end, taking advantage of the rates, which necessitated two and three sections.

The train will leave New Orleans at 7:30 a. m., reaching Bay St. Louis 9:30 a. m. and on the return leave Bay St. Louis at 6:00 p. m. and reach New Orleans at 8 p. m. and when it is necessary to run two sections one train will leave New Orleans at 7 a. m.

The railroad also is offering special summer rates to northern and eastern points effective May 1, instead of May 15, as on former years, and good until Oct. 31, Mr. Colly said.

The old "Dollar Excursion" would bring thousands of visitors to the Coast each and every Sunday and the return of the former popular price will revive traveling.

But while the earth and sky and sea, Alas, have lost their glamor, And wonder things that used to be Have ceased amid the clamor.

Through all the range of all the change, One spell is broken never. With magic art, you hold my heart, You are the same forever.

MAY TIME

When life was young with yellow hair And sweet with clinging kisses, When not a breast of love was bare And hearts beat high with blisses,

When every youth and every maid In every wind and weather, Turned every common glen and glade To fairyland together.

When every bush possessed its bird And every bird was singing, When every little song I heard, Was like an angel winging.

Before I ever even knew That life at times is tragic, When every word to me was true And earth was mirth and magic,

When all of these and more besides Touched every thorn with roses, I came to claim you for my bride, I came with April posies.

Your eyes, your lips, your hands, Your hair, Were May and April blended. I saw you standing, smiling there, With eager arms extended.

My heart knelt down to worship you With all its adoration, The only love it ever knew, The May time's incarnation.

COMMENT ON SPORTS BY SHERIDAN

Weather Hurts Baseball.
Urges Later Start
Ruth's Opening Bang
Gehrig's 1,042nd Game.
Hafey Goes To Reds
Schmeling Arrives.

The baseball season opens with chilly weather holding down attendance and causing a suggestion from John A. Heydler, president of the National League, that a later opening date be adopted by the major leagues. The first week witnessed appallingly small crowds in the face of the promise of unusually interesting pennant races. Heydler's suggestion would mean the prolongation of the base ball season in the fall.

Comment on the suggestion is variable although it is noted that William Harridge, president of the American League, declares, "Even if we open two weeks later, the weather might be just as bad as it is now." This seems to be the general idea because spring weather is a gamble. However, it seems to us that a few years ago the playing season was shortened in order to avoid conflict with football and a streak of bad weather that was encountered for several seasons.

Babe Ruth got off to a running start, with two smashing circuit blows in Shibe Park. His first appearance at the plate demonstrated that his home-run hitting is no myth. Incidentally, Sam Byrd, a regular after three years on the Yankee bench, also connected for two circuit blows. He had four home-runs to his credit in the last four exhibition games. Gehrig also sent a liner over the screen, making five circuit smashes for the Yankees in their first game. If this is a fair idea of what the opposition hurlers are to expect, McCarthy's boys will be on the top of the heap in September.

When Lou Gehrig started the season this year he played his 1,042nd consecutive game and is on his way to the achievement of Everett Scott, who holds the alltime record of 1,307 consecutive games. Gehrig cannot reach Scott's record this year but if he lasts may exceed it in 1933. Besides Scott, Joe Sewell is the only other player who has succeeded in playing more than 1,041 scheduled games without a miss. Gehrig, somewhat dimmed in the lustre surrounding Babe Ruth, is a valuable player for the Yankees. Last year he tied with the Babe for the home-run championship and set an American League record by batting in 184 runs, which is just six tallies short of the major league record set by Hack Wilson in 1930. Gehrig attaches great importance to driving in runs.

A last minute trade sent Chick Hafey, 1931 batting champion of the National League to the Cincinnati Reds in return for Benny Frey, right-handed pitcher and Harvey Hendrick, utility player. The inference is that the Cardinals received some cash. Hafey has had his trouble with the Cardinal management over salary. Last year he did not sign until after the season started and was docked $2,000. This year he refused to sign for the offered $13,000 and threatened to remain idle unless paid $15,000 and the $2,000 he lost last year.

Dan Howley was jubilant over securing Hafey. Together with Babe Herman, former Brooklyn slugger, who was secured through a trade to alleviate a hold-out impasse, Hafey will give the Reds the punch that they lacked last season and bolster the chances of the team to get out of the cellar.

Boxing fans will be interested to hear that Benny Leonard, who retired undefeated as lightweight champion, is continuing his comeback campaign. He recently out-pointed Buster Brown in a ten-round bout.

Max Schmeling, world's heavyweight champion, is back in this country ready to defend his title against Jack Sharkey on June 16th, when they will meet in New York for fifteen rounds. As far as known at this time, the champion will not fight any other ring battles this year, although the possibility of a fall fight is strong. Schmeling seems to be in fine condition but declined to make any predictions as to the outcome of his contest with the Boston heavyweight, declaring that he always adapted himself to conditions as he found them in the ring.

Helen Wills Moody will leave shortly for Europe where she will participate in the French and English tournaments. Last year she did not go over and thereby defaulted.

Emilio Cue, Attendance 84.00 and Inspection 84.00

A. G. Favre, Attendance 20.00

Be it ordered by the Board that the Board adjourn until the Board in course.

STANISLAUS COLLEGE ECHOES

CAMPUS RAVINGS.

Discovered! One brand new backstop. It must perforce be handled carefully and gently. Apply "Chubby" Sandoz.

Our dearly beloved friend and classmate "Chubby" had his proboscis slightly struck a jar from its moorings last Sunday while (he) was trying to take the place of the base ball backstop. Upon the opinion of the bystanders and that of the injured party it is said that Ambition Loch—no, we did not say that he has ambitions to pitch that his cognomen by which Loch answers to all inquiries at table—any way "Ambition" let go one of his heaves in the general direction of the plate—keep cool, I mean the baseball plate—near where Teos and Burch Colvert stand to admire the offerings of Loch and where Pope-eye was stopping the wild heaves of Buster Sandoz—well, that is where Loch was trying to throw, but due to atmospheric conditions this pheroid was deflected towards the screen that hides Monkey from the populace, that too is the locality where his friend was standing—Chubby. The ball as I said was thrown towards the plate but as I also said for some reason it struck at the screening but Chubby seems to have gotten his nose around the screen—you know what a doughnut looks like, well suppose you had a doughnut but no dough, well, that is just the way Chubby's nose filtered through the wire and naturally the ball made contact—and was there a cry, by countrymen, to the poles that support the screen I ask. Monday, Chubby sported a beautiful large nose nicely colored and seemingly in the way of doing everything wrong—we would like to know if Earnest Richards also ran into a ball or a bat, or did some ball, or bat run into him?

MINSTREL.

Depression and frowns are the high lights of the scenery today. Everywhere about us we can see signs of Depression. No one is "up to the time" now-a-days if he does not go around with a perpetual stomachache frown or a sickly grin. And as per usual, we can supply the magical cure.

Yes sirree! a minstrel that is a minstrel. A laugh a second black-face farce. And the public is cordially invited to attend—to attend one of the best "blues hasers" ever staged. Peppy songs, latest melodies and rollocking wise-cracks will put and keep you in a frenzy of laughter. A nominal charge will be made, sufficient to defray expenses.

This minstrel will be staged at the St. Stanislaus College Auditorium on May 15, under the auspices of the Sodality of the Blessed Virgin Mary. The purpose of the minstrel is to raise sufficient funds to send a member of the local Sodality to the Convention in Chicago which is to be held in August. Don't forget folks—come to the minstrel on May 15 and die happy—you'll surely die laughing.

SPORTS.

Stanislaus traveled to Biloxi last Saturday and came away that evening with five first places in the various events. Although without an overwhelming multiplicity of points, the red and black invaders managed a third place in the whole meet, and with a little less tired relay team might have come off with better results than that, since the Relay decided the meet.

Linan captured two first places, one in the shot and the other in the discus. "Gulu" Ducasa took two first places also in the quarter-mile and half-mile. "Slinkey" Andrade grabbed off the mile. "Dedo" Richards got away to a slow start in the high-hurdles, otherwise he would have come second by a hairs-breadth. All the boys are busy prepping up for the state meet to be held next week-end. Linan and Ducasa are our two best bets for record breaking, and Andrade hasn't failed to cross the finish line in the mile run in so long that he wouldn't know what happened if someone accidentally beat him.

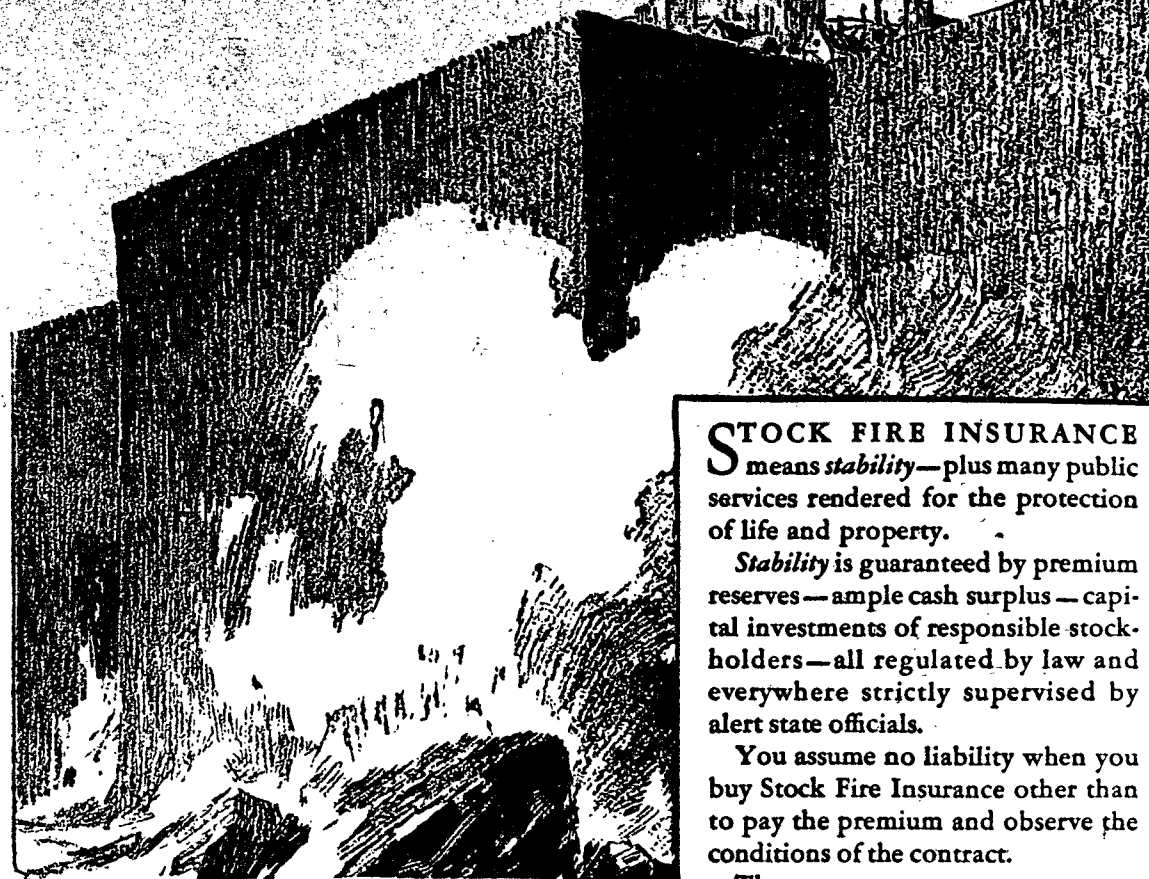

Every Sunday for about six weeks there will be a dual meet held at the College Stadium (this forthcoming Sunday excepted) so come right on out and see what is happening on the way of covering the terra firma.

ed her Wimbledon title. Without disparaging other contestants, most observers take it for granted that she will maintain her firm grasp on her undisputed title as the champion woman tennis player of the world.

For just about two months, Billy Burke, national open golf champion will be busy defending his title. Preliminary qualifying rounds will be held in twenty different sections of the country and it is expected that approximately ninety golfers will meet at the Fresh Meadow Country Club to fight for the crown in June. Thirty-four players are on the exemption list, but other contenders will have to compete in the district tests in order to qualify for the championship. The winner receives a gold medal, custody of the championship cup for a year and a cash prize of $1,000.

TRIBUTE TO MEMORY THOMAS JEFFERSON IN ANNUAL BANQUET

Much Water Has Passed Under Bridge Since Jefferson's Time—Resolution Asking That Statue of Lee Be Accepted in Statuary Hall—Other Echoes From Capital of Nation For Echo Readers.

By Representative Robert S. Hall.

CAPITOL HILL, April 17.—Scores of Democrats flocked to Washington on April 13, to pay homage to the memory of Thomas Jefferson, whose fertile mind conceived the ideal principles which still constitute the mainspring of the Democratic party. The occasion was the commemoration of the 149th anniversary of the birth of Jefferson. Following a delightful dinner, served in the banquet room of the Willard Hotel, addresses were given by several prominent Democrats, including former Governors Byrd of Virginia, Cox of Ohio and Smith of New York, Governors Ritchie of Maryland and White of Ohio.

GUIDING STAR OF DEMOCRATIC PARTY.

Much water has passed under the bridge since President Jefferson used to walk across a plowed field in going to and from his boarding house and the Capitol. For a while after he became Chief Executive he lived in the old Varnum Hotel recently torn down in clearing the site for the new House Office Building. Meantime, the Jeffersonian theory of political government has been the guiding star of the Democratic party. Jefferson was not only a practical farmer himself, but envisaged a nation, the rank and file of which would be free and independent farmers; and the country remained chiefly agricultural up to the turn of the present century. Legislative procedure in the House of Representatives still is predicated on Jefferson's "Manual of Parliamentary Practice."

HEARING ON SOLDIER BONUS.

Hearings on measures authorizing immediate payment of the soldier bonus are being conducted by the House Ways and Means Committee; and many witnesses, both for and against the plan, are jamming the committee room. Opinion on the plan for issuing new currency against the veterans' adjusted service certificates for meeting the obligation is sharply divided. The opponents argue that distribution of two billions of dollars would not only inflate the currency too much, but jeopardize the financial structure of the government. The proponents contend that it would help bring back prosperous conditions, and that most of the opposition is coming from big bankers and money lenders.

ASKING TWO STATUTES BE ACCEPTED.

Representative Woodrum of Virginia has introduced a resolution in the House requesting the Government officially to accept the statues of George Washington and Robert E. Lee, placed in Statuary Hall in the Capitol in 1909 by the State of Virginia, under an act of Congress of 1864 inviting all States to furnish statues of illustrious citizens, not exceeding two in number. While formal acceptance is not absolutely

City Commissioners Cut Own Salary; Nine Hundred Dollars Year

At a meeting of City Commissioners held Monday at Bay St. Louis city hall, a voluntary reduction in salary was voted, the Mayor and two commissioners voting to reduce their own salaries in order to carry out a plan to reduce taxation.

Mayor Traub, Commissioner Lander and Commissioner Egloff each heretofore receiving a salary of $225.00 per month will by their own order receive $200 instead. This will make a total reduction of $900 for the year. Commissioners have been cutting off little corners here and there in the aggregate plan to show for the year a substantial saving.

Property owners will receive this as welcome news and tidings of substantial interest.

Delegates From

Bay St. Louis To
O. E. S. Convention

Mrs. E. J. Leonhard, deputy district matron, accompanied by Mrs. Fred Wright and Miss Miriam Engman attended the annual State convention, Order Eastern Star, held during the week at Meridian, representing the Bay St. Louis chapter as delegates.

essential, in most instances the government has accepted statues given at appropriate exercises. Due to an oversight, the statue of Washington and Lee were not thus received; and Mr. Woodrum thinks it would be exceptionally appropriate to have them formally accepted during the bicentenary celebration of the anniversary of Washington's birth. Sixty-four statues heretofore have been placed in Statuary Hall, the old Hall of the House of Representatives. It will be recalled that statues of two of Mississippi's notable citizens, Jefferson Davis and James Z. George, were unveiled with fitting ceremonies on June 2, 1931.

CONFERENCES AT WHITE HOUSE.

Following a series of White House conferences, participated in by the President and the Special Economy Committee of the House, two alternative plans for reducing the Federal pay roll as a means of curtailing the government overhead have been tentatively advanced. The administration proposes to introduce the five-day week, or its equivalent, throughout the government service and eliminate annual pay with leave. The Economy Committee proposes to reduce by 11 per cent the amount of salaries in excess of $1,000 a year. Whichever schedule, if either, is approved by the House, would be effective during the fiscal year 1933.

"TARZAN, THE APE MAN" AT A. & G. THEATER THIS SUNDAY AND MONDAY

Talking Picture Version of Widely-Read Edgar Rice Burroughs Adventure Novel Directed by W. S. Van Dyke Of "Trader Horn" Fame

Johnny Weissmuller, World's Swimming Champ Heads Cast.

"Tarzan, the Ape Man," Edgar Rice Burroughs' widely-read African adventure novel, has been brought to the screen under the direction of W. S. Van Dyke of "Trader Horn" fame, and will be shown at the A. & G. Theater Sunday and Monday.

Because the hero of this story is a white man who has been brought up in the jungle and lives like the apes in the tree-tops, making his way by swinging through them from limb to limb, difficulty was encountered in finding someone of sufficient athletic prowess to fill the exacting role.

Has Perfect Physique

The problem was solved when Johnny Weissmuller, world's champion swimmer and one of the finest examples of masculine physiques, was cast as Tarzan. Neil Hamilton and C. Aubrey Smith, as leaders of an English safari seeking ivory wealth, Maureen O'Sullivan as Smith's daughter, Doris Lloyd, Forester Harvey and Ivory Williams fill the remaining principal roles.

Jungle thrills outdoing even those of the sensational "Trader Horn" are promised in the daring trek of the safari through the wilds of Africa in search of the elusive "Elephant's Burial Ground" in the course of which the adventurers meet with terrifying obstacles. The wilds of the white man are matched against those of beasts and savage pygmies with the primitive winning out in the end, while screen romance of a new order is entailed in the curious love affair of the Ape Man and English girl.

What are reported to be some of the film's most hair-raising episodes include an attack of lions by night upon the safari camp; the crossing of a river filled with hippopotami; a fight between Tarzan and a bull-ape; the rescue of a trapped elephant and the subsequent efforts of the grateful beast to aid his rescuers.

Captured by Pygmies.

There is also an amazing episode in which the heroine is carried through the trees by a herd of apes; the capture of the safari by the pygmy tribe; their subsequent escape from death in a gorilla pit and the spectacular charge of a huge herd of elephants through the pygmy village leaving devastation and terror in its wake.

Settings of tremendous magnitude were required in giving the picture the authentic backgrounds of the original locales laid in the African region around Lake Albert and the Mountains of the Moon where herds of giant apes are found. Hundreds of savage jungle beasts were used in the production for the filming of some of the most unusual animal scenes ever photographed.

WORK AND PLAY AT S. J. A.

S. J. A. WINS FIRST PLACE FOR THIRD YEAR LATIN IN GULF COAST LITERARY EXAM.

S. J. A. for the third consecutive year won first place in the Third Year Latin examinations of the Gulf Coast Literary and Athletic Association. Frances Scaife, S. J. A. representative was awarded the Cicero medal last Saturday night at the Biloxi High school where the results of the Gulf Coast Examinations were read out.

Evelyn Nix came out fourth in American History and Alice Feeney also placed in Chemistry. We are quite pleased with our record this year for even though we won first place in all except two of the contests which we entered and furthermore doubled the total number of points which we received last year.

BLOXI TRACK MEET

Our girls did fairly well in Bloxi

last week at the Annual Track Meet of the Gulf Coast Literary and Athletic Association. Of the four events in which the school took part we placed in two coming in third for the relay race run by Nicolina St. Angelo, Ann Partridge, Alice Camors and Evelyn Perre. Ann Partridge won fourth place in the running high jump and increased her last year's record by six inches.

In the platform events, Louise Lowe who competed in the piano contest won third place missing second place and the chance to take part in the finale by only one half point.

THEY THOUGHT THEY HAD LOCATED HIM.

Friday morning St. Joseph's Academy was in an uproar, especially the Seniors and all over a little curly-haired adorable baby, who, believe it or not, looked remarkably like the Lindbergh baby. Oh the wild speculations and extravagant day-dreaming in which some of these seniors were indulging only to have their hopes crushed. They could just see "Lindy" himself arriving at Bay St. Louis, perhaps thanking them for helping him find his son. And that was just one of the least impossible of the many things that they saw in their very vivid imaginations. In fact some of us were surprised (and quite a few of us not a little alarmed) to discover the heights to which the imagination of some of our school mates could soar.

Alas and alack, the little flax-haired boy wasn't the famous and unlucky son of Charles Lindbergh and the convent girls are still bemoaning that fact.

SODALITY NEWS.

At the regular weekly meeting of the Children of Mary Thursday it was suggested that the high school make a Novena to the Holy Ghost (this being the month of the Holy Ghost) for the success of the Washington Exams. The Novena is to begin on Friday April 22, with Mass and Holy Communion. It will consist of a few prayers said every day in church in a body, and will end nine days after with Mass and Holy Communion. This special Novena is to be strictly voluntary. Those of us who feel that we can do without help—either human or divine—will not be among the very devoted group on Friday.

Many of those in attendance, in fact, I might go as far as to say the majority of those present, will be those who have scored human help throughout the year, and have fallen back on Divine assistance, expecting no less than a miracle to be wrought in their favor, because of the fact that for nine whole days in succession they have spent ten whole minutes in prayer. Over these we linger just long enough to recall a short, but, oh, how true adage: "God helps those who help themselves," and wishing them well we pass on to a small but fervent group who realize that nothing can be accomplished without Divine assistance, but have not been presumptuous enough to expect a miracle and have been doing their bit all year long. To those we wish the best of luck, and they have every reason to expect it.

AND THIS IS JUST THE BEGINNING.

One night I was aroused from a deep sleep by the shouts of seven tiny, queer creatures, grouped at the foot of my bed. They were about two inches in height, wore white blouses and navy blue skirts and each had a scarlet band across her chest with some jumbled letters in white. As my sleepy eyes became used to the darkness, those muddled white letters became clear. The leader of the small band was "Religion." Then came Math, Latin, History, English, French and Chemistry. Suddenly they became quiet and out of the stillness came the leader's voice "charge." The battle was on.

The seven pygmies grouped about my head and began to pummel my face with their tiny clenched fists. I tried to ward them off, but to no avail. I grasped one of the tiny figures in my hand and it was—the leader, Religion. But even as I recognized the lettering about the scarlet band, Religion faded from sight. I had conquered the leader, and what good is an army without a leader? Still another and another I vanquished until there was only Chemistry left. She eluded my grasping fingers again and again, but finally I got her and the last of the Wash-

THE SEA COAST ECHO

City Echoes

—Mr. Leo W. Seal, president Hancock County Bank, has returned from a business visit to Jackson and looked in on the legislators. Mr. Seal is well known at the Capital.

—Miss Norma Gex, accomplished young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Gex, attending university of Mississippi, was a visitor to Jackson, spending the week-end at house guest of friends. Miss Gex will graduate from Ole Miss this early summer with bachelor of arts degree.

—Dr. and Mrs. Henry Boswell, of Sanitarium, Miss., are visiting Dr. and Mrs. C. M. Shipp. The Doctors left Thursday to speak before the Mobile Medical Association, and on their return Dr. and Mrs. Boswell, no strangers here, will spend several days here in recreation pastime.

—Mr. and Mrs. F. Sellier, and daughter Odile, of Gulfport, accompanied Mrs. Burton Ladner, on an auto trip for the week which included Memphis, Tenn., and Hot Springs Ark., returning home Tuesday morning. The trip was one of recreation and proved a most delightful outing.

—Another coupon for Duco paint from J. O. Mauffray's appears this week in a new advertisement which the Joseph O. Mauffray Trust carries in this issue of The Sea Coast Echo. This advertisement appears on page two and is of direct interest to every resident.

—Mr. L. J. Burg, prominently connected in banking circles at New Orleans, is spending a month's vacation at his family summer home in Bookter avenue, accompanied by his family. While here Mr. Burg is having the dwelling painted and generally improved.

—Clerk of the Courts A. G. Favre and Sheriff T. Ed. Keller were in Vicksburg and Jackson during the week, spending a day at each place on official business. Both officials are well known at Jackson and mingled with many of the officials and other friends at the capital.

—Ladies of the Legion Post Auxiliary of Bay St. Louis and Hancock county have generously donated a number of arbutus and other ornamental "shrubs" to plant on the terrace and about the premises of King's Daughters Hospital. These were received from the Loraine Flower Shop and nursery and already planted. The Auxiliary has made a thoughtful and lasting donation.

—Members of the Post County Council Legion Auxiliary will journey to Pascagoula this Friday morning to attend a quarterly meeting of the various coast-wide organizations. Miss Azalea Favre, of this city, will give a reading on the "American Flag," as a program speaker. Miss Favre will represent Hancock county and the honor has worthily befallen. It is not stated, but it is expected many delegates will be present at the Pascagoula week.

—A sale of interest and profit to the purchaser is in course of progress this week at the Bay Mercantile Company. The store has been arranged in an entirely different manner, with a mezzanine floor built to the back and entrance to the second story—economy department—is affected from the front now as well as the rear of building as formerly. The sale has been in progress but the stock is replete with variety and merchandise at prices that one can hardly resist from buying, for it means a saving of money and procuring necessities one has possibly been in need of since so long a time.

FATHERS' NIGHT AT CENTRAL SCHOOL HEAR DR. SUTTON

Observance, With Special Program, Attracts Many To Bay Hi Auditorium

The Parent-Teachers' Association of the Central School observed Fathers' Night on Tuesday, April 19, with a most interesting program. The feature of the evening was the address of Dr. J. L. Sutton of the Mississippi Children's Home Society of Jackson, who was introduced by Mrs. C. C. Clark. Dr. Sutton has made the welfare of children his life work and stressed to Fathers, Parent-Teacher workers and friends the need for good homes, particularly today when temptations are stronger than ever before. He emphasized the value of the example in the home in the character building of our children and declared himself an optimist in spite of modern criticism of our young people to the contrary. The Parent-Teacher Association wishes to express its appreciation to Dr. Sutton for contributing so delightfully to the Fathers' night program.

The program in addition consisted of the singing of P. T. A. songs, miniature minstrels by the first grade children who were perfectly trained by Mrs. Celine Ashcraft, chorus work by the third grade under Mrs. May Smith and Miss Blount. A feature of the evening was "Echoes of the State P. T. A. convention" just held on Meridian by Mrs. Alvah P. Smith who was the association's official delegate. Mrs. Smith brought back with her the idea of the average child as typified by the "Unknown American Boy," which was one of the most impressive features of the State convention.

Smith in race to stay, denies being "stalking horse."

Ford to test new giant plane within two weeks.

Mellon, arriving in London, denies special debt mission.

—Mrs. Lucien M. Gex and baby have returned from a week's visit to the parental roof at New Orleans, motoring to and fro.

—Courthouse gardens in this city continue to win the praise and admiration of all passersby, for which Clerk A. G. Favre, assisted by W. H. McDaniel, deserve unstinted praise and credit. A riot of varied colors from stock-plants (over 500 in number) are now at their best. However, not to leave the grounds without a flowering mass, after the stock blossoms will have spent themselves, petunia plants were set out in between the Loraine Nursery this week, in anticipation of the immediate future. The cost is infinitesimally small and serves as a civic attention well worthy of copying.

COLEMAN AVENUE COMMERCIAL DISTRICT.

Coleman avenue has become quite the business center of Waveland, with a concentration of several new business houses erected thereon the past year or two, including the handsome twelve-thousand dollar school house of brick and concrete. The Herlihy Drug Store, the C. B. Mollere I. G. A. Store and the Morrere dry goods and novelty store are among the outstanding improvements and help to building and further improve Waveland.

LIZANA PREMISES RECEIVING IMPROVEMENT

Vic E. Lizana, who recently returned home from the Southwest in the interest of the Posteria Glassware Company, which he successfully represents for many years past, is home on an extended vacation and takes advantage of the time for the personal superintending of extensive garden operations, incidentally participating in the work for the open air and exercise benefit. Mr. Lizana's dwelling is an ideal one, complete and a paragon of comfort, and the grounds win the admiration of all who visit the hospitable Lizana home.

TOWN OF WAVELAND TO BUILD STREETS.

Waveland is advertising for contractors to bid on the proposed improvement of constructing a marked improvement, the hardsurfing of principal streets, and bids will be opened at the Town Hall on Friday, May 20, 1932. It is planned to have the work carried to completion at the earliest moment in order to be completed for the busy summer season. Mayor Schwartz and his associates are eager for the completion of this work.

WAVELAND PROPOSES TO ISSUE $25,000 BONDS.

Town of Waveland is advertising its intention of issuing street paving bonds in the amount of $25,000.00 bearing 6 per cent, and will be sold to the town's best advantage on Friday, May 20. The Board of Mayor and Aldermen reserves the right to reject any and all bids. As there is an outstanding bond issue against Waveland of $15,000 there will be no trouble in disposing of this comparatively small addition. Truly a good and safe investment.

OLD SPANISH TRAIL ROUTE THROUGH WAVELAND.

Tourists and general traveling public by automobiles, as well as the local bi-state travel enjoy the scenic route of the O. S. T. over Waveland beach. It is argued that the "Old Spanish Trail" covers the entire beach line from Henderson Point and Pass Christian on Ocean Springs, and why not over the Waveland and Bay St. Louis beachway. It is cheating the traveling public both from paving and scenic highway. The present detour which makes the Bay and Waveland beach the temporary official route, is proving the mistake that has been made heretofore and proves as an example of the better and prettier route.

Gravel roads through the woods are not only dangerous but undesirable. It is safe to say that even after the regular O. S. T. route will have been reopened, the bulk of travel will continue to use Waveland and Bay St. Louis beach.
